To Whom It May Concern:

This is a professional job reference for Carsten Bueche.

Carsten worked in a contract position for Testhouse as an automation engineer from 4th December 2004 to 28th January 2005 at BSkyB in Livingston, Scotland.

While working for Testhouse, Carsten was responsible for constructing automated test scripts for a regression pack that was being put together for a Java based CRM application. Carsten used the test automation tool WinRunner version 7.6 for the script development and TestDirector version 7.6 for viewing the test scripts for automation. Each test script was data driven and Carsten was required to use Excel data tables with the scripts that he was automating.

In all aspects of his job, Carsten was a consistent and reliable contractor. He performed his duties in a professional manner at all times and kept me informed regularly as to his progress. He fully dedicated himself to all aspects of the assignment and never wavered from fulfilling his obligations to us. I would recommend him to anyone seeking to fill a similar position.

Yours sincerely,

Andrew Macpherson
